

*"See that you do not look down on one of these little ones. For I tell you that their angels in heaven always see the face of my Father in heaven."
Matthew 18:10*

"These two children were both at school when the earthquake happened. They were rescued the next day. When they were pulled out neither one of them could remember their names or their parents or where they lived. No family member had been to the school to find them. No one could identify them or help them find their families."

Ruuska Village, where the Ankenbauers' Rosena lives (more pictures of Ruuska at iansadoption.blogspot.com):

This week, the Ankenbauers wait with many other families for the decision by U.S. State Dep't that may allow Haitian children who have been matched with families to be evacuated to the U.S. on humanitarian grounds. In the meantime, orphanage staff in Port au Prince are still searching for water and food for the many children in their care.

On Thursday evening we plan to change our regularly scheduled gathering into a time of worship and prayer for Haiti. Please join us. (1/21, 7:00-8:30 at Knox; childcare provided).
